UTM e-Learning

- A system in which course syllabi, lecture notes, extra learning materials, quizzes, assignments, and discussion forums can be accessed online
- Each registered student is provided with access the course materials at any time from anywhere
- Blended Learning approach – online materials to support traditional teaching methods
- Blended learning is defined as the practice of combining both online and face-to-face learning experiences (30% to 80 % of the course content is delivered online) .
- Dasar e-Pembelajaran Negara (DePAN 2.0)

<http://elearning.utm.my/>

Based on DePAN:

- 40% Blended Learning 2017
- 70% by 2025

UTM e-Learning

Each Public Universities need to ensure that the practice of blended learning (e-Learning) meets predefined conditions.

These conditions are:

EL1 - Provides Courses Framework (L1)

EL2 - Provides learning materials (at least 50% of the total content or 7 units weekly lecture notes)

EL3 – Organize at least 3 online learning activities (during the semester)

EL4 – Using at least 2 online assessment (during the semester)

EL5 - Average access for each student to e-learning (known as Active Index) greater than 28 times during the semester

Blended Learning Operational Definition @ UTM

The practice of blended learning courses offered at UTM were evaluated and reported as follows:

CL1: Fulfils condition EL1 only;

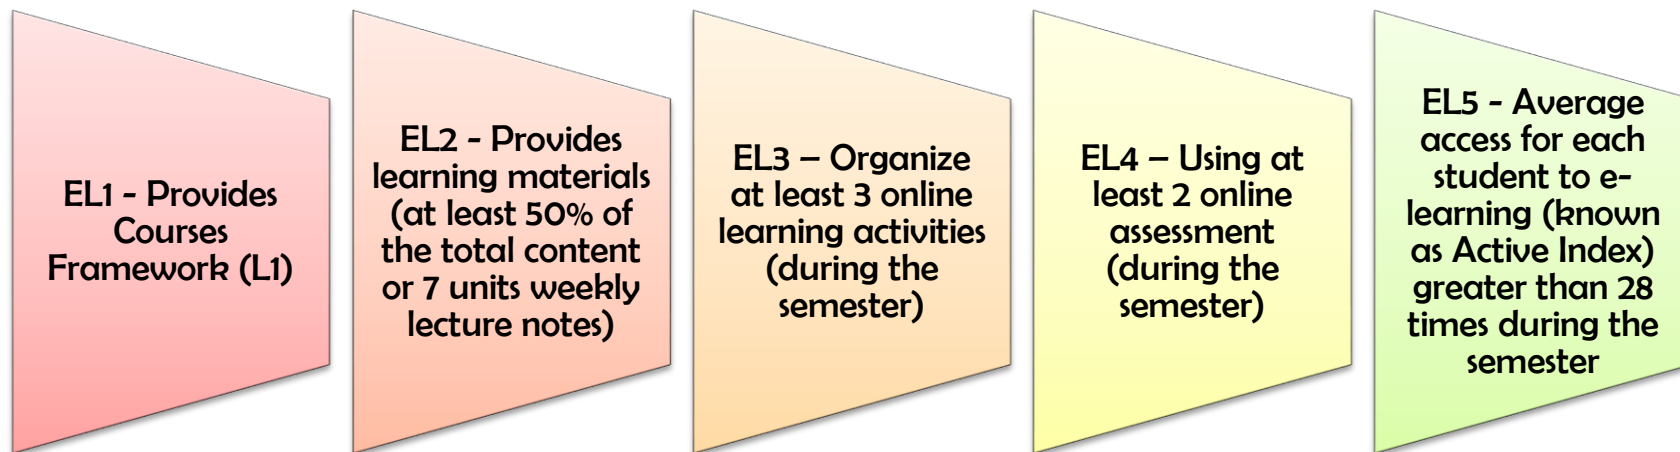

CL2: Fulfils condition EL1 & EL2 / EL1 & EL3 / EL1 & EL4 / EL1 & EL5 ;

CL3: Fulfils condition EL1, EL2 / EL3 / EL4 and EL5 only;

CL4: Fulfils condition EL1, EL2, (EL3 + EL4) > 5;

CL5: All 5 elements of blended learning fulfils;

Courses that belong to CL4 and CL5 level are considered as a blended learning courses.
