

The Gallopers were born at a time when working people could not afford a horse. Riding the colourfully decorated models gave them a flight of fancy and a way of escaping the drudge of reality.

