

Illustrations

Figures

1.1	Liveability: a top priority	2	3.5	Exclusionary public space	47
1.2	Privatised public space: Euston, London	7	3.6	Dedicated teen space	48
1.3	Deteriorating public space: The Bund, Shanghai	7	3.7	Shared space	48
1.4	Inadvertent impacts: the humble wheelie bin	8	3.8	Exclusive space	49
1.5	A standards-based approach to public space design	8	3.9	Shopping malls as consumer space	50
1.6	The dimensions of public space character	9	3.10	Privatised corporate space	51
1.7	The context for action	17	3.11	Café-creep	51
1.8	External public space quality audit by users	18	3.12	Gated communities in China	52
1.9	The idealised three-way partnership	22	3.13	Active participants in the drama of civilisation	52
2.1	The acropolis of Athens	24	3.14	The third place setting for public life	53
2.2	The Agora in Athens	25	3.15	Baltimore Inner Harbor	54
2.3	The Imperial Forum in Rome	25	3.16	Manchester's Gay Village	54
2.4	Medieval winding street in Assisi	25	3.17	The creep of the private security industry	55
2.5	Michelangelo's Renaissance Piazza del Campidoglio in Rome	26	3.18	Hard controls	56
2.6	Cheapside, showing a medieval market cross and multifunctional space	26	3.19	Homogenised public space	58
2.7	Covent Garden piazza with church and market, 1751	27	3.20	Reconquered cities: Copenhagen	59
2.8	Covent Garden Market	28	3.21	Reconquered cities: Portland	60
2.9	Leicester Square with private garden for residents, 1721	28	3.22	Space types: Greenwich	63
2.10	Gates with gatekeeper on the Taviton Street entrance of Gordon Square, Bloomsbury, shortly before their removal in 1893	28	3.23	Space types: Erith	64
2.11	Victorian buskers in Leicester Square	29	4.1	Public space management and its key dimensions	67
2.12	St Patrick's Day in Trafalgar Square	31	4.2	The three models of public space management	72
2.13	Piccadilly Circus in 1897	32	5.1	Qualities of streets: two sides of the same coin	87
2.14	Victory celebrations and electric advertising in Piccadilly Circus, 1945	32	5.2	Generic problems and pressures	97
2.15	Bryant Park with New York Public Library in the background	34	6.1	Eight cross-cutting steps to better practice	117
2.16	The Sony Plaza, public/private space	35	7.1	Open space management analytical framework	121
2.17	Times Square looking south towards the Times Tower in the 1920s	36	9.1	Times Square study area	162
2.18	North Times Square at night, showing signage and advertising in the late 1930s	36	9.2	Times Square today (Broadway x 7th Avenue)	164
2.19	Times Square at night showing election results on Times Tower in 1952	37	9.3	The Times Square canyon	165
2.20	Times Square in the 1970s, perceived as dangerous and seedy territory	37	9.4	Father Duffy	166
2.21	Modernist functional space	38	9.5	Times Square structural elements	166
2.22	Artistic space	39	9.6	Times Square signs and lights	167
2.23	Perimeter block urban systems	40	9.7	Diagrammatic plan of element 7	168
2.24	Modernist free-flowing space	40	9.8	Diagrammatic plan of element 8	169
2.25	Standards-dominated space	41	9.9	Diagrammatic plan of element 9	169
3.1	Neglected public space	42	9.10	The Faces Fence	170
3.2	Lost space	44	9.11	Diagrammatic plan of element 10	170
3.3	Car-reliant space: the American strip	45	9.12	Diagrammatic plan of element 11	171
3.4	Invaded public space	45	9.13	Diagrammatic plan of element 12	171
			9.14	Sitting/loitering space in Times Square	172
			9.15	Position of prominent management in Times Square over one day	173
			10.1	Leicester Square today	178
			10.2	Piccadilly Circus today	178
			10.3	Piccadilly Circus Partnership Business Improvement District jurisdiction	181