

5.35

Figure 5.35 The Millgate project: house model.

5.36

Figure 5.36 The Millgate project: house design.

if possible, make a sketch plan of their current home, listing its good and bad features. In addition, a field trip to Milton Keynes was arranged for the group to view a range of house types. The bus trip and pub lunch was part of the community-building process even though the primary purpose of the visit was to widen the group's knowledge-base (Figures 5.32 and 5.33).

The task of home designing was facilitated by the use of another large-scale model. The model consisted