

Upper left: LED lighting effect is meant to create a festive contrast with the industrial background
 Lower left: The outward focus of the design accentuates the richness of experience without competing with the majesty of scale of the surrounding port, and provides the community's number one preferred activity on the promenade: "viewing the working harbour"
 Upper right: A major water feature anchors the Gateway Plaza, celebrating the revitalisation of San Pedro
 Lower right: Wooden deck overlooks have moveable "deck chairs" to create a new context for viewing the working harbour through ornamental grasses that allude to the site's natural history as a tidal marshland
