

- Law courts, impressive building
example, 40, 41
- Le Corbusier's proportioning system, 76–7
- Lecture theatres, 120–2
unpleasant for the students, 206–7
- Leicester University Engineering
Faculty Building, 94–5
- Levi-Strauss, Claude, on primate studies, 166
- Libraries:
and behavioural settings, 25
reading rooms layouts, 139–40
- Literature, redundancy in, 76
- Liverpool Roman Catholic
Cathedral, 94, 96–7
- Lynch, Kevin, on identity, structure and meaning, 237–8, 240
- McDonalds, and behavioural settings, 26
- Mackintosh, Charles Rennie, library
arrangements by, 139–40
- Malay Kampong (village), 187–8
and defensible space, 191
- Malaysians, cultural sensitivity of,
159
- Malinowski and Thurber, on boys'
perception of places, 6
- Markus, Tom, on power and domination influence of buildings, 243
- Meadowhall shopping centre,
Sheffield, 238
- Meaning, and the human memory system, 64–7
- Measuring space, see Semantic differentials; Space syntax
- Memory, see Human memory system
- Mitchell, Bill, bell tower by, 97
- Modern architecture, 97–9
- Modernism, 4
- Montmartre, and functional space,
222–4
- Morris, Desmond:
on appeasing traffic policemen,
131–2
- on home advantage with football, 180
- on house personalization, 32
- on territory and religion, 170–1
The Human Zoo, 104
- Morse code, and redundancy, 74
- Motivation and need, 16–18
- Movement:
designing for people movement,
218–21
and scale, 55–9
- Mozart, at Bertramka, 49
- Music:
redundancy in, 76
and rule making/breaking, 71
- National Gallery, Sainsbury Wing, 78, 80
- National territory and nationalism,
165, 169–72
Albert Einstein on, 165, 171, 193
borders and the heartland, 172
and multinational companies, 172
- National Theatre, South Bank,
London, 29
- Natural lighting, and time
awareness, 30
- Need:
balance of, 36–41
and motivation, 16–18
motivation and stimulation, 18–21
and security, 21–3
spatial needs, 18
- Neighbour problems, 178–82
- Netiquette, 133
- New York, approach from sea, 58
- Newman, Oscar, on invasion of territory, 184
- Nixon, President, and public
distance, 123
- Non-committal design, 195
- Non-reciprocal relationships, 144–5
- Non-verbal communication, 128–31
- Numbers, and the human memory
capabilities, 63–5
- Office meetings, social and business
considerations, 113–14