

Four images suffice to convey the 80-meter length of the Calla Larga Foscari, a distance that has taken up to fourteen images in earlier sections of the walk when streets were narrower and more winding. Only when the pedestrian reaches what appears to be the dead end of this street does another pedestrian, stepping out of the narrow opening to an alley, show how the route continues, into the narrow Calle de la Dona Onesta.