

- London, 292, 293–94, 299, 307; on urban design as agent of transformation, 302–3
- Rousseau, Jean-Jacques, 152n9
- Rovira, Josep M., 36n35, 36n40
- Rowe, Colin, xviii10, 118, 140, 143, 144, 151n4, 152n9, 163, 210, 219; Noll map/figure-ground obsessions of, 145–46, 211
- Rowe, Peter G., xiv, xv–xvi, 229–30, 284n6; on East Asia, 270, 275–76, 278, 283; on patterns of urbanization, 276–78; on post-1956 unforeseen urban worlds, 270–84; on three episodes of change, 272–75; on urban design as sphere of operations, 282–84
- Rowse, E. A. A., 34n17
- Rudolph, Paul, 54
- Russian Constructivism, 143; “social condenser,” notion of, 147
- Saarinen, Eero, 19, 22
- Saarinen, Eliel, 17, 19, 22, 33n4, 33n11, 34n14
- Salk Institute (Kahn), 215
- Salt Lake City, Utah: Gateway, 178
- Samper, German, 37n47
- Samton, Gruzen, 214
- Sanders, James, 289
- San Francisco: Embarcadero area, 102; Oakland, 265; Public Architecture, 190, 194–95; South Bay, 316; South of Market area, 195
- San Juan, Puerto Rico, 223
- Santa Monica hedges, 240–41, 243
- Sant’Elia’s Italian Futurists, 125
- Sarkis, Hashim, 151n4
- Sasaki, Hideo, 4, 26, 28, 36n38, 44, 45, 53, 113
- Sassen, Saskia, 139, 284n8
- Saunders, William S., 185n1, 230; on default mode of mainstream urban design, 317; on regulations and guidelines issue, 322; at roundtable discussion, 291–92, 294–303, 308, 310, 314, 317, 322–24; on Sorkin, 319
- Schinkel, Karl Friedrich, 143, 226n5
- Schouwburgplein, Rotterdam, 133, 312
- Schultz, Paul, 20
- Scott Brown, Denise, xiii, xv, 61–87, 85n14, 86n16, 86n20, 86nn23–24, 86nn26–27, 87n28, 87n31, 138, 141, 145, 151n4; career of, 68–76; on discipline of urban design, 82–83; on future of urban design, 83–85; guidelines for urban design, 80–81; on Harvard’s First Urban Design Conference, 61–66; on Harvard’s influence, 68–76; on present state of urban design, 77–80; redefining urban design for today, 76–77; theory of “decorated shed,” 142; on trends and fashions in urban design since 1956, 66–68; on urban design education today, 81–82, 84–85
- Seaside, Florida, 133; New Urbanist Seaside project, 176–77
- Seattle: antiglobalization uprisings in, 269
- Second World of Soviet-style command economics, 271
- security- and surveillance-obsessed new urbanism: environments being created by, 268; gated communities, 93, 268, 286