

- Post-Modernism:
 architectural typology, 92–3
 cities, 122
 culture, 115–16
 form, 8, 43–51
 limited space/form, 84
 postwar Britain, 117
- Power:
 design review, 346–7
 lay persons, 346
 personal interests, 346–7
 powergrams, 309, 321–2
- Power stations, 200
- Poyner, Barry, 29, 31
- Preserving the past, 265, 293–301
 battle lines, 294–5
 cities, 298
 communicating history, 297–9 fragment re-usage, 300
 historical patterns, 294
 memorials, 301
 memories, 295, 298–9
 motivations, 293–4
 museum villages, 297
 old versus new, 299
 patriotism, 293
 personal connections, 296, 300–1
 present value, 299
 progressive modification, 296 reconstruction, 294–5
 restrictions, 295–6
 ruins, 297
 social stability, 296–7
- Private cities, 142, 170–5
see also New urbanism
- Private sector versus public sector, 19
- Private-property decision maker study, 310, 332–43
 aims, 333
 Arlington Business Park, 333, 335–6, 338–9
 Brindleyplace, 333, 335–7, 339 design considerations, 333–41
 Ealing Broadway Centre, 333, 335–6, 341
 Fair Ridge, 333, 335–6, 340
 Great Notley Garden Village, 334–6, 340–1 incentives to quality design, 341 investors, 334, 337–9
 methodology, 333–4
 occupiers, 334, 337, 339–40
 quality of design, 332–43
 results, 334–41
 trends, 342
- Privatization:
 BIDs, 134
 downtowns, 46–7
 lost space, 67
 poor/undesirable people, 157
 public space, 46–7, 153, 156–7
- Procedural aspects:
 contemporary design, 52–8
 planning, 40
- Process/product argument, 17–18
- Production:
 built environment, 314–18
 form, 323–30
- Professionals, 323–30
 ambiguities, 18–19
 builders, 316
 built environment, 316
 collaboration, 10–11, 19
 control of expert work, 326–7 designers, 18–19, 95, 332
 developers, 315–16, 337–8
 form production, 323–30 Hadid, 327–9
 heroic architect model, 323–4 negotiation complexities, 329
 traditional typology, 95
see also Architects
- Property developers, 315–16, 337–8
see also Professionals
- Proportion: good form, 37
- Public policies, 111–13
- Public sector versus private sector, 19
- Public space, 141, 153–62, 211, 230–40
 active engagement, 234–8
 adventure/challenge, 236–7
 'broken window' syndrome, 156
 Celebration, 157
 comfort, 231–2
 contraction, 153
 control, 174
 conviviality, 159
 decline, 155–6
 discovery, 238
 elderly, 235
 festivity, 237
flânerie, 157–9
 fountains, 234, 236
 future aspects, 153–62
 gated communities, 157
 globalisation, 153
 greenery, 233–4
 ICT, 153
 invented places, 157–9
 legislation, 160
 local activism, 159
 markets, 237
 needs, 230–40
 parks, 154–5, 160, 230, 232, 236
 passive engagement, 233–4 people watching, 233
 plazas, 234–5
 privatization, 46–7, 153, 156–7
 public spirit, 155–6
 relaxation, 232–3