

3.1.15 Existing and proposed

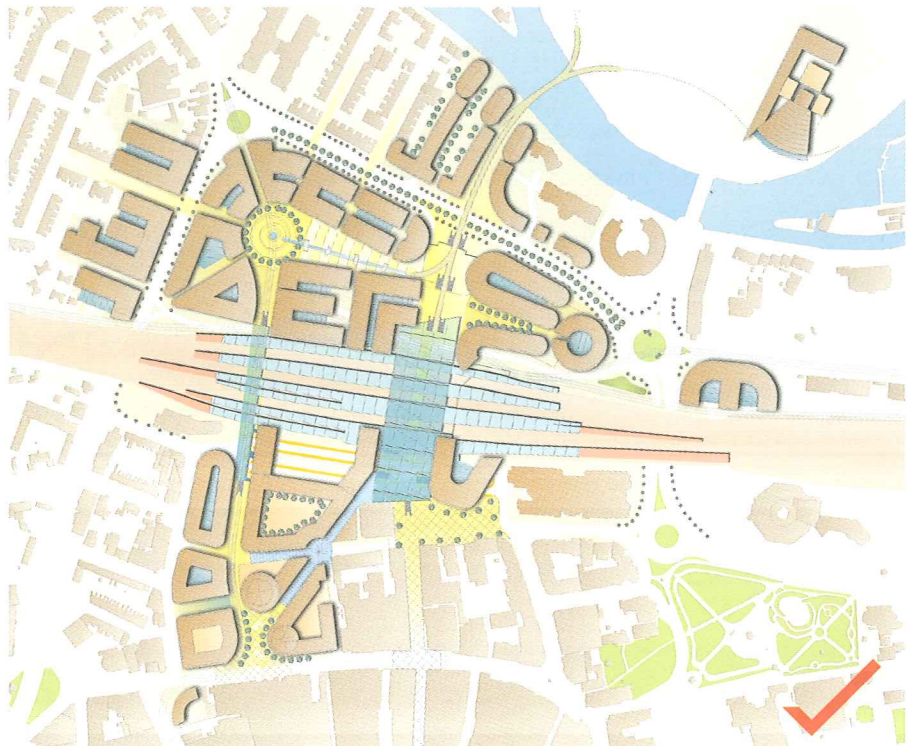

Proposals must be distinct and clearly differentiated from the existing urban fabric. A clear and confident presentation will ensure that the audience understands what is proposed.

Watchpoints

- Use neutral or light colours for the existing base-map.
- Show the proposals in bolder or brighter colours.
- Remove detail from the existing base-map.

Reading station: graphically shows no contrast between existing and proposed and the base-map obscures the message with unnecessary detail

Proposals are graphically bolder and darker to differentiate existing from proposed and all extraneous detail removed from the base-map
